(b) the reasons for the delay in the process, indicating the progress, so far, made in giving effect to this Act, enacted seven years ago?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF SOCIAL JUSTICE AND EMPOWERMENT (SHRI SATYABRATA MOOKHERJEE): (a) and (b) The Persons with Disabilities Act, 1995 enforced since February, 1996, provides for affirmative action and protective provisions aimed at social, educational and economic empowerment of persons with disabilities. This requires a muiti-sectoral collaborative approach of all Ministries of the Central Government, the State Governments and other appropriate authorities. Action to implement various provisions of the act is an ongoing process.

In order to ascertain the population of persons with disabilities, data on disability was collected through Census 2001 and is under compilation. The National Sample Survey Organisation is conducting a survey on disability in the SS"^ round during the period July-December, 2002. Besides, some States have also carried out complete survey, district-wise, to identify persons with disabilities. A special drive for setting up Medical Boards in States/Union Territories has also been launched for issue of disability certificates. Medical Boards have been set up in 398 districts in 22 States/UTs for issue of certificate of disability.

The Chief Commissioner for Persons with Disabilities has been appointed to safeguard rights and facilities made available to person with disabilities and also to look into complaints with respect of deprivation of such rights. Also, all States have set up similar authorities in the States.
